

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
December 7, 2007

New Test-Preparation Program Prepares Students for Colorado Student Assessment Program (CSAP)

A new test-preparation program is now available to help Colorado students and teachers prepare for the upcoming Colorado Student Assessment Program (CSAP). Show What You Know® Publishing, the leading publisher of state-specific test-preparation, has designed a research-based program aligned to Colorado Model Content Standards for Grades 3 -10.

According to Cindi Englefield, President of Show What You Know® Publishing since 1993, “The Show What You Know® program includes Student Workbooks, Parent/Teacher Editions, and Flash Cards to help students increase their test-taking skills, reduce test anxiety, build student confidence, and raise CSAP test scores.”

This innovative strategy-based program helps students become better test takers, building the confidence and skills a student needs to succeed on the CSAP. Practice test questions, aligned to the Colorado Model Content Standards, Benchmarks and Assessment Objectives, help teachers and parents identify students’ strengths and weaknesses and where additional review may be needed.

“Every student should be given the opportunity to improve and achieve test success,” Englefield noted. “We have developed a program for the CSAP that uses a simple trifold formula: (1) combine the students’ prior knowledge with (2) learnable test-taking skills, and (3) practice on simulated tests to improve test-taking abilities.

Sample pages from Show What You Know Publishing’s CSAP test-preparation workbooks and flash cards can be viewed at www.passthecsap.com. Contact 1-877-PASSING, ext. 17 to learn more about the program.

Contact: Cindy Firestone
Tel: 1-877-727-7464, ext. 30
Email: marketing@eapublishing.com

Show What You Know® Publishing 1-877-PASSING www.passthecsap.com

